Local Firm Launches New Environmental, Health and Safety Training Series in London

September 6, 2007, London, Ontario – Local firm, Tavares Group Consulting Inc. is pleased to announce the introduction of its new training series in Environmental, Health and Safety (EHS). The program running this fall geared towards EHS coordinators, quality and risk managers, accountants, human resources professionals and senior managers includes five sessions focusing on environmental legislation, industrial hygiene, integrating and optimizing management systems, ISO 26000 and air reporting assistance. And more sessions are planned from January to June 2008.

“In today’s world of heightened environmental consciousness, companies and organizations aiming at long-term profitability and enhanced credibility recognize that EHS awareness and training initiatives are essential to the sustainability of an organization,” says Sandra Tavares, Principal of Tavares Group Consulting Inc. “These sessions are uniquely designed to ensure this end through a more integrated approach that looks beyond EHS training and links EHS and its importance to other disciplines in an organization.”

“The training series provides an opportunity for participants to receive the required legislative environmental training, gain access to leading experts in their field and experience how EHS fits in the bigger picture of a sustainable organization,” Tavares adds. Held at Sunningdale Golf and Country Club, breakfast, half day and full day sessions include the following:

Tuesday, September 18, 2007 – Overview of Environmental Legislation

Wednesday, October 3, 2007 – Industrial Hygiene

Tuesday, October 16, 2007 – Integrating and Optimizing your Management Systems (held at Windermere Manor)

Wednesday, November 21, 2007 – ISO 26000: A Sneak Peak into the Social Responsibility Standard

Wednesday, January 16, 2008 – Air Reporting Assistance
